MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

An Intensely Dull Market in New York, Without Noticeable Change in Prices. NEW YORK, Oct. 13 .- Money on call was easy, with no loans; at the close money was offered at 219

Prime mercantile paper, 62619 per cent. Sterling exchange was dull and steady at $4.8319 for sixty day bills, and $4.874 for demand. The sales of stocks to-day were 67,256 shares, including the following: New England, 19,015; Reading, 6,450; Richmond & West Point, 4,500; St. Panl, 49,300; Union Pacific, 4,655.

The stock market to-day was again intensely dull outside of one or two stocks, and prices, while well maintained throughout, showed no movement, except in the stocks referred to, with the addition of a few specialties. There was no disposition to trade, and the dealings were purely professional, with little or no significance. The opening was steady at prices either unchanged or but slight fractions different from the closing figures of last ovening, and the activity displayed in the succeeding transactions was entirely in New England and Cotton Oil certificates. These two stocks developed considerable strength, and the former rapidly advanced 11s per cent. the latter following with a gain of 1 per cent. The market then reacted slightly, and the general list went back again to the level of opening figures; but a few specialties, among which Philadelphia Gas, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago, St. Paul & Duluth, and Oregon Short-line became very strong on light trading. No further feature marked the deal-ings, and the close was dull and about steady at the opening prices. The final changes are, in most cases, for slight fractions, and about equally divided between gains and losses, but Philadelphia Gas rose 3 per cent.; St. Paul & Duluth. 112; Big Four, 118, and

Oregon Short-line 1 per cent. The railroad bond market was equally dull and featureless with the share list though there were a few important changes in quotations, and the weak-ness of the Kansas & Texas issues and the strength in the Iron Mountain fives were noticeable. The sales Government bonds were dull and weak for the CHICAGO, Oct. 13 .- In the wheat market the general situation continues about the same, though business was much lighter than for several days past. There is a general disposition to get out of December, and the trading centered principally in the May futures, especially by operators who favored "short" selling. A dull feeling prevailed. The tendency, evidently, was bearish, but operators feared selling the December future. The opening did not vary much from the closing of yesterday, with prices declining quickly see for December and see for May, followed by a rally of 13co for December, but only 7se for May; prices then again eased off, declining 1se for the former and 1se for the latter, ruled within a moderate range and closed lac higher for December, and the lower for May than yesterday. Trading h corn was confined a most entirely to local operators, very little outside business being transacted, and the market ruled quiet most of the session. The feeling developed early was steady, and closed a shade better than yesterday, after fluctuating within a $20 log range. There were no new features, and the market was governed entirely by local influences. Trading in cats was rather less than yesterday, but a steady feeling prevailed, with the changes in values confined to an unumportant range. Mess pork was slow and without important features. January was offered with a fair degree of freedom, and declined 72c, rallied 5c, but closed at about inside figures. A light business was transacted in lard, within a narrow range of prices. Short ribs received moderate attention, and sold at a lower range of prices. Leading futures ranged as follows: Opening, Highest, Lowest, Closing. 81.1414 81.1414 Wheat-Oct $1.1414 1.14% 1.15% 1.14% November December 1.161g 1.16¹6 1.14³9 May 1.1518 1.1518 Corn-October.. 447s November 458s December May Oats-October .. INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. The Cold Rains Checking Trade Temporarily

-Prices Buling Steady.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 13. Take the week as a whole the volume of trade has been very satisfactory, although the last two days, owing to disagreeable weather, trade has been a little off. Dry goods men report the trade of the month thus far to have been considerably in excess of that of the corresponding two weeks of October, 1887. Prices, however, are hardly as strong as on the first of the month. Grocers have been quite busy. There is really not much in the way of new and suggestive features upon the wholesale market for groceries. The principal animation at the moment is in coffee, but just how much of this has speculative composition is yet to be determined, and the deal is marked by a stripe of uncertainty than carries an impression of unhealthiness to a portion of the trade. Other goods move somewhat irregularly. A review of the deals of the week reveals no change in value of an important character, and nothing of a very significant character, except a faint indication that the bullish feeling in coffee is a trifle tired, and sugars ruling about steady. As usual, on Saturday, it was a busy time in the produce markets. Receipts of fruits of the season and vegetables are large, consequently there is a tendency to lower prices. Apples are seldom as cheap in the middle of October as this year, that is, good fruit. The yield of potatoes, both sweet and Irish, in the West, is large and low prices may be expected. Receipts of eggs continue light, prices advancing in their tendency. Poultry in good supply and prices easy although not quotably lower. Butter in liberal supply and to get our best quotations it must be a good article. The seed market continues scrive, with firm and unchanged prices. The provision market is in a strong position, with a good deal doing in a jobbing way for so late in the season. It is quite evident that with the opening of the new season packers will be obliged to pay high prices for hows. The flour market is active and prices a shade easier.

A HUNDRED YEARS A HERO! How Seth Warner Won a Wife and Became Famous.

Col. Seth Warner, of Vermont, the famous hero of the Revolutionary war, was a leading ichter for the Hampshire grants. These titles were disputed by the State of New York, and its authorities obtained an edict of the King of England in their favor. The eettlers were stung by the supposed injustice. This state of things brought Col. Seth Warner to the front With Ethan Alien and others he actively opposed levery effort of the New York State authorities to enforce possession, and finally he, with Allen and others, were outlawed that some one should go into that State and gain required information. Colonel Warner, assuming for safety the name of "Dr. Howard," undertook this perilous and romantic journey.

While on his way home he stopped at a country inn, where an old gentleman and daughter were storm-bound. The father fell ill and the daughter called upon Colonel Warner, who, with his wide knowledge of simple remedies, successfully treated the "old man," and he finally won this devoted woman for a wife. Such incidents were not uncommon in those years. When the doctor was not easily reached, months of sickness, and even life were often saved by some unprofessional friend versed in the use of simple herbs and roots. The health of early cettlers and their powers of endurance convince us that such medicines did only good and left no poison in the blood to work as much injury to the system as would the disease itself.

In time of peace the Colonel was in constant demand for his knowledge of simple remedies and their power over disease. But it was left to another of his name of the present age to give to the public what was then used with such positive success. Warner, for over a hundred years, has shared with Ethan Alien the admiration of the Ameri-Col. Seth Warner belongs to a family of wide distinction. No less than eight members thereof won fame in the regular practice of medi-

Looking to the adoption by the people of this generation of the old-time simple remedies, his direct descendant, H. H. Warner, the wellknown proprietor of Warner's safe cure, for many years has been experimenting with oldtime roots and berbs formulæ and, his search having been finally rewarded with success, he gives the world the result. These recipes and formulæ in other days accomplished great things because they were purely vegetable and combined simply so as to cure the disease indicated, without injury to the system. In harmony with their old-time character, we learn that he proposes to call them War-ner's Log Cabin remedies, using as a trade-mark an old-fashioned American log cabin. We understand that he intends to put forth a "sarsaprulla" for the blood, the sarsaparilla itself being but one of a number of simple and effective elements; "Log Cabin hops and buchu," a general stomach tonic and invig-orator; "Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," Warner's Log Cabin hair tonic;" a preparation for that universal disease catarrh, called "Log Cabin rose cream;" Warner's Log Cabin plasters;" and "Warner's Log Cabin liver pills," which are to be used in connection with the other remedies, or independently as re-

Warner's safe remedies are already standards of the most pronounced scientific value in all parts of the world, and we have no doubt the Log Cabin remedies, for the diseases they are intended to cure, will be of equal merit, for Mr. Warner has the reputation of connecting his name with no preparation that is not merito-
